

If ever there was a bad idea, 04-405 is it. The FCC needs to retain its regulatory powers regarding broadband internet access. If there is no FCC oversight, internet access will consolidate into a very few providers with monopoly powers of price fixing and the stifling of innovation. The FCC needs to continue to provide the level playing field that provides freedom of communication. Thank you.